Captain J. Hannell,

Political Resident in the Broom Gulf

In reference to your Re-question under date the 1st instant I have visited Wauchoe in this ship and find from the best accounts I can get that Prince is visiting the country to see it and settle it, he never having seen the sea came down on the morning of the 10th to Chae, where his camp was pitched during the day he returned in the evening to the cote.

What thing is expected at Sufwan a disturbance between some of the Kooey tribes and the Tsofo at the same place but was it is respectfully advised by the Niger most most of the Principal People of the Princes Camp visited the Ship, and it was the Princes wish to do so but the French and principal people of Anchar by some means alarmed him, and prevented it. All appears quiet, and the civility and apparent good feeling of the principal people in attendance on the Princes, forms a fine contrast with that of the higher chiefs of the people of Anchar.
