

Handwritten text in Ottoman Turkish script, appearing to be a list or a series of entries. The text is written in a cursive style and is somewhat faded and difficult to read in many places. It seems to contain names and possibly titles or descriptions of items.

(۱۲۶)

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, continuing the list or entries from the upper section. It is also in Ottoman Turkish script and is partially obscured by the stamp.

